SPOTLIGHT ON: EAT THE GLOBE

It's been a while since I have done a Spotlight On post so I thought it was about time I recharged the batteries and shone my spotlight on another deserving organisation, this time Eat The Globe!

Food and travel would have to be two of my favourite things, and combining the two together is pretty much my idea of perfect. I've been lucky enough to do a bit of travelling and many of the highlights of my travels have, unsurprisingly, been food-related. From learning to make dumplings in the home of a Chinese family, to an incredible 7 course meal in Kyoto surrounded by geishas and everything in between (Spanish food in Germany on Christmas Day anyone?!). So when I heard about Eat the Globe it immediately sparked my interest!
